Willamette Singers
Dear Willamette Music Students,

Welcome to the 2016-17 school year at Willamette University and the Department of Music. Returning students, we’re so very happy to be back together with you again. We hope that you’ll join us in extending a special welcome to the new incoming music students to our community as we undertake another year of study and making music together.

This student handbook has been carefully prepared to assist you as you plan your study in music, whether it be in pursuit of the BA, BM, or Minor in Music. It should answer most of your questions about our music program, and provide you with the information you need to develop your own questions for an adviser. Returning students will know that it is essential for one to become completely familiar with the handbook in addition to working closely with a music faculty adviser. New students should be especially attentive to the options and expectations presented here.

The music faculty is here to partner with you to assist in your progress and development as a music major or minor. Please allow me to encourage you to be informed, proactive and to ask questions as they arise about your progress toward a degree in music. Naturally, I am eager to personally and confidentially meet with you to answer broader questions about music and our department, and to discuss concerns that may arise during your time at Willamette.

I wish all of you the best, and look forward to a great year of music at Willamette University.

Sincerely,

Mike Nord
Professor of Music & Chair

The Willamette University Music Program is accredited by the National Association of Schools of Music (NASM) and is subject to the standards set by the NASM. This organization periodically reviews our course offerings, degree plans and faculty. According to the NASM Handbook, the following are requirements for undergraduate music degrees:

NASM UNDERGRADUATE MUSICIANSHIP STUDIES

Purpose. Musicianship is the body of knowledge, skills, practices, and insights that enables music-making at any level. To some extent, every musician functions regularly as performer, listener, historian, composer, theorist, and teacher. Completion of an undergraduate program in music indicates acquisition of sufficient musicianship to perform these functions appropriate to the areas of concentration and to communicate effectively across the specializations of musical practice.

For this reason, certain subjects, learning processes, and approaches to creativity are common to all baccalaureate programs in music. The particular format and details of the curricula utilized to achieve such breadth are the responsibility of each institution. Goals, objectives, size, scope, and resources shape the means used to fulfill this responsibility. Specific means will vary from institution to institution.

Content. Musicianship begins with acquisition of fundamental competencies such as aural and rhythmic skills, the reading of notation, and the use of musical terminologies. Development then proceeds through constant use and expansion of previously acquired skills.

The content of traditional coursework in musicianship such as sight-singing, ear-training, harmony, keyboard harmony, counterpoint, orchestration, conducting, and music literature is important. However, this content can be organized and taught in a variety of ways to produce comprehensive musical competence.

Consequently, as the standards for degree programs show, undergraduate musicianship studies develop or provide: (1) conceptual understanding of musical components and processes; (2) continued practice in creating, interpreting, presenting, analyzing, and evaluating music; (3) increased understanding of musical achievements from various analytical, historical, and cultural perspectives; (4) enhanced capacities to integrate musical knowledge and skills; and (5) a set of capabilities for independent work in the music professions.

MUSIC FACULTY: Back page
Process to Declare a Music Major:
Students intending to major in any music degree program must declare a specific major by completing a Declaration of Music Major form (see Appendix A). The form is also available in the Music Office. This completed form must be submitted to the Music Department Chair by the end of the third week of the semester for approval and then will be forwarded to the Registrar. Students will receive advising during this time to assist them in finding the appropriate music major degree. All music majors must have approval of the faculty in the area in which they wish to major. A student will be admitted as a performance major only if the faculty in the area of specialization agree that a student has the potential for successfully completing a degree in performance.

In addition to requirements for ensembles, lessons, and music core courses, all music majors are considered provisional music majors pending the completion of the following requirements:
- Performance - Must complete the Advancement Recital (see Section Four, B.2).
- Improvisation in Contemporary Practice - Must complete the Advancement Recital (see Section Four, B.2).
- Composition - Must have completed musicianship courses and have successfully completed Elementary Composition I and II.

Music majors must request one of the following full-time music faculty members as an advisor, depending upon degree emphasis.

ADVISORS

Marva Duerksen – Theory, History, Performance
Daniel Rouslin - Violin, Theory, String Performance

James Miley – Improvisation, Theory
Wallace Long - Choral, Voice Performance

Michael Nord - Improvisation, Music Tech
Héctor Agüero – Orchestra, Wind Ensemble, Music History

John Peel - Composition

SECTION TWO (2): THEORY PLACEMENT

Read this section carefully and take the required theory courses in the appropriate sequence.

A theory placement exam will be administered before registration each fall semester to all newly entering students. Students wishing to transfer theory credits from another institution will also need to take the theory placement exam. The exam is simply to determine the appropriate placement for newly entering students. It does not determine eligibility to participate in the degree program. In cases where a student is particularly advanced, it may be possible to test out of a semester or more of our Musicianship and Musicianship Lab courses.
By the 9th week of the student’s 4th semester in music, instructors in the student’s primary instrument, ensemble, musicianship and music history courses will submit a brief assessment concerning the student’s performance in each of these areas. The department chair will then compose a letter to the student and academic advisor outlining the student’s strengths and weaknesses, and will at the same time advance recommendations for continuing in the music major. The letter will become a permanent part of the student’s file.

During each semester of study, a music major must be enrolled in or have completed requirements in:

- Musicianship courses, Musicianship Lab courses, Musicianship Keyboard Lab courses
- Music History courses, after necessary prerequisites
- One hour applied lesson on an instrument or voice.
- One of the approved ensembles. (See Section Eight, page 5, Ensemble Requirements)
- All music majors must perform at least once per year on a Weekly Student Recital.

A. Tuesday Music Convocations: With the exception of the first semester at Willamette, all Music Performance and Contemporary Improvisation majors are to perform once each semester at the weekly music convocation (“convo”). Failure to meet this requirement will result in a grade of T/F in applied lessons for the semester. (See Section Thirteen, page 10)

B. Advancement to Junior Year:
   1. In order to advance to the junior year with a major in Music Performance or Contemporary Improvisation, a student must:
      (a) Have an interview with the music major advisor.
      (b) Maintain a 2.0 grade-point average in music courses.
      (c) Satisfactorily perform an Advancement Recital by the end of the sophomore year (or by the end of fall semester of junior year for transfer students and for Contemporary Improvisation majors who enroll in MUSC 208: Improvisation II).
   2. Advancement Recital -
      (a) The student will obtain the required forms in the music office and will select three members of the music faculty to serve on the jury. This jury should include at least two full-time faculty members.
      (b) The recital must include at least 30 minutes of music.
      (c) For MUSIC PERFORMANCE majors: The recital must include representative works form each period appropriate to the instrument. Generally, all works except ensemble works should be performed from memory.
      (d) For COMTEMPORARY IMPROVISATION majors: the recital program should communicate a breadth of styles that includes the blues, standard song form, free improvisation, contemporary harmonic language, original compositions, and both solo and ensemble works. At least four weeks prior to the recital, the program must be selected in consultation with the applied instructor and pre-approved by the recital jury. All works must be performed from memory.
   3. Completion of three additional semesters of applied instruction, following the Advancement Recital, is required for graduation.
   4. If the attending faculty jury determines that the recital does not receive a pass (i.e. meet the performance standard) then the student’s BM program track will be reviewed by the full-time faculty and the student’s applied instructor. Students can expect that a switch to an appropriate BA track will be recommended.

C. Senior Recital: (See Section Ten, page 6, Senior Year Requirements)
All piano students taking applied lessons are required to accompany. Accompianiists are expected to prepare music in advance and to rehearse with the soloist outside of the lesson. Students desiring the services of an accompanist in addition to the lesson and established rehearsal time should expect to pay for these additional services. Non-Willamette accompanists for recitals must be approved by the Department Chair. Please first consult with Dr. Coen.

Students who enroll in the Seminar in the Art of Piano Accompanying may receive ensemble credit, see Section Twelve E, page 9. A member of the full-time piano faculty will supervise, coordinate and match accompanists with soloists.

SECTION SIX (6): APPLIED LESSONS

A. Lesson Charge: The current cost for 14 weekly, one-hour lessons is $680 per semester. A pro-rated refund will only be given if lessons are dropped during the first three weeks of the semester (officially, one week from the end of the University Add/Drop deadline). Students may also withdraw from lessons after the Add/Drop deadline, but must do so before the Withdrawal deadline. If lessons are dropped or withdrawn after their respective deadlines, no refund will be given. All freshmen and sophomores will be charged for lessons regardless of major. Applied lessons in a second area will be billed to the student’s account regardless of major.

B. Studio Fee: A studio fee of $50 per semester will be charged to all students enrolled in applied music lessons.

C. Credits: A minimum of one hour per week of applied lessons on the student’s primary instrument is required of all B.M. students and recommended for the B.A. students in music. Any additional lessons will be charged at the current rate. Music scholarship recipients are required to take weekly one-hour lessons on their primary instrument. Please see below for the number of credits required for each specific music major.

D. Course levels: The 170, 270, 370, 470 applied lesson designation will be determined by the student’s year of study in an instrument. For example, a junior beginning piano lessons would enter at the 170 course level. (i.e. not 370).

A. Student Recital or Jury: All music majors must perform yearly at the music convocation. Unsatisfactory performances may result in students being required to continue working and repeat the performance.

B. End-of-Semester Juries: Juries are required of all music majors. Non-majors may be required to participate or may choose participate after consultation with their applied instructors. Students will consult their applied teachers for the jury requirements in each respective vocal or instrumental performance area. Instrumental and voice faculty will work out in their respective cohort the appropriate standards for juries within these areas, taking into account reasonable differences and expectations for B.A. students compared to B.M. students as well as differences and expectations for the various degree emphases: Performance, Composition and Contemporary Improvisation.

Additional details concerning juries may be obtained from the following faculty members:

- Voice: Professors Long and Swensen-Mitchell
- Strings: Professors Rouslin and Mishkin
- Brass, Woodwinds and Percussion: Professor Agüero
- Improvisation: Professors Miley and Nord
- Piano: Artist-in-Residence Coen
Music majors and minors must maintain a cumulative 3.0 GPA to perform in more than one ensemble per semester. If a student falls below a 3.0 GPA there will be a probation period of one semester. Music majors and minors may perform in at most two major ensembles. A petition must be made to the music faculty to perform in more than two ensembles. Students whose major instrument (e.g. classical guitar) is not present in the large ensembles may petition for alternative placement following consultation with their applied instructor and advisor.

C. B.M. Contemporary Improvisation Majors: All CI majors compile a digital portfolio of their required performances along with major projects and creative production work completed in CI classes. Additionally, all CI major must present a Senior Project consisting of at least fifty minutes of music. This presentation may be organized as follows:

   - Option A—Senior Recital: A public performance in a recital setting of a diverse program selected in close consultation with a faculty advisor. Featured works should represent a breadth of stylistic knowledge, and original compositions, as well as both solo and ensemble works. Repertoire must be approved by a faculty jury at least four weeks prior to the scheduled performance. Program notes, written by the student, should be rigorous and submitted to the senior project jury at least three weeks prior to the performance (Note: repertoire for the senior project recital must be different from the advancement recital).

   - Option B—Digital Studio Production: An in-depth digital studio production project approved by and developed in consultation with a faculty advisor. This production should be representative of the student’s studio expertise and skills as a composer/performer/improviser. Projects may involve a range of work developed in a digital music production environment. An accompanying research/thesis paper outlining the project’s context, process, and outcomes must be submitted at completion of the project.

D. Bachelor of Arts Degree: Depending on the area of specialization within the B.A., students will do one of the following: research paper, senior composition project, or recital.

D. Additional Ensemble Opportunities: In addition to the large ensembles, there are many opportunities available for chamber music performance in classical quartets, trios, duos, etc., as well as in jazz combos. Please speak with your applied instrument instructor for assistance in forming or joining such an ensemble.

E. Piano Accompanying Requirements:

Pianists who hold a Music Scholarship Award are required to:
1. Take MUSE 099X Seminar in the Art of Accompanying every semester.
2. As part of the accompanying class, all pianists will be assigned students to accompany. Pianists with a Music Scholarship Award will be assigned an accompanying load based on the amount of their Music Scholarship Award, their experience and ability, and the difficulty of the assigned repertoire.
3. If NOT enrolled in the accompanying class:
   a. The student will be required to accompany a set number of hours as determined by the Music Scholarship Award, the student’s piano instructor and the faculty member charged with coordinating the accompanying assignments.
   b. For additional accompanying above the requirements of the accompanying course or the Music Scholarship Award, a student may, if qualified, be eligible for payment through the work-study program.
   c. With permission from the piano music faculty, piano students may substitute a small or large ensemble to fulfill a portion of the piano accompanying requirement.

F. Academic Probation: According to the University’s Academic Policies and Procedures, any student who is on academic probation is “ineligible to represent Willamette University in any public performance” (i.e. including music performance) and that student is “subject to review of his/her financial aid status” (i.e. including music scholarship awards).
A. Weekly Music Convocation: Tuesday, 11:30 a.m. Hudson Hall

Convocations present the opportunity for students to perform before an audience and to give other students the opportunity to hear different repertoire. In order to reserve a space for the recital, student performers must submit a completed Student “Convo” Form (see Appendix B) to Diane Trevett in the Music Office no later than one week (Tuesday) prior to the first-choice recital date. Only completed forms will be accepted in order to hold a space.

1. The front and back of the form must be legible, include stage set-up, etc., and for vocalists, all translations must be e-mailed by the prior Tuesday to Diane Trevett, dtrevett@willamette.edu.

2. Required signatures include:
   a. Applied lesson instructor,
   b. Staff Accompanist (Crystal Zimmerman and Arsen Gulua) if applicable
   c. Instructor of the Piano Accompanying Class or staff accompanist if a student is accompanying.

3. All music majors and all music scholarship recipients must perform at least once per year on the weekly student convocation. With the instructor’s permission and when appropriate, recitals may be used to satisfy performance competencies. The weekly music convocation is also an opportunity for students to try out pieces that will be performed at the end-of-semester juries.

B. Recital and Concert Attendance Requirements:

1. Hearing music in live performance is essential to your training as young artists. The National Association of Schools of Music (NASM) requires the University to assist you in becoming familiar with literature from each style period appropriate to a wide variety of orchestral instruments, piano and voice. Therefore, all music majors are required to register for MUSC-RECIT-01 each semester and attend the Weekly Music Convocations that present student performances, guest artists, masterclasses, and special presentations.

2. In addition, majors are required to attend other music performances and masterclasses. Specifically, you are required to attend at least 8 Tuesday morning music convocations in their entirety, and 7 additional concerts/masterclasses per semester, for a total of 15 performances. At least 10 concerts each semester must be on-campus events. Concerts and recitals in which you perform can be counted toward the total. Students involved in multiple concerts or multiple performances during tours can only apply 2 of those performances toward the total of 15. Because all freshmen in the fall semester are committed to the course: IDS 101X—College Colloquium, with meetings on Tuesdays at 11:30 a.m., the requirement for Music Student Convo attendance will not begin until the spring semester for freshmen music majors.

3. To receive recital/concert credit, students must place a signed program in their folder in the recital box in the Music Office no later than the final regular class day for each semester.

4. Students other than first semester freshmen not fulfilling the music convocation requirement will not receive a pass grade in MUSC-RECIT-01. Pass grades in MUSC-RECIT-01 are required for every semester other than the first for freshmen students. Missing attendances must be made up during the subsequent semester and require students to petition the faculty for confirmation. Failure to complete the requirements can constitute grounds for the withdrawal of students’ music major status by the faculty, or withholding of degrees by the registrar.

C. Non-Required Recitals

Those students desiring to present a non-required recital may do so only after the applied lesson instructor has received approval from the department chair. All costs associated with the recital including poster, program, accompanist, stage technician, etc. will be the responsibility of the student. All printed materials must be presented to the applied lesson instructor for approval at least three weeks in advance. All Non-Required Recitals must be completed by April 1, 2017.
D. Senior & Sophomore Qualifying/Advancement: Required Recitals for B.M. in Performance Degree

1. Recital Planning Checklist: Prior to planning your recital you MUST obtain a Recital Planning Checklist and a Recital Scheduling Request Form from the Music Office to assist in recital planning. See Appendix D and E.

2. Select and Schedule Recital/Rehearsal Dates:
   a. Using the “Recital Scheduling Request Form”, Appendix E: Check available dates with the Music Department Administrative Assistant Diane Trevett, the Stage Manager Mike Bergh, and Administrative Program Assistant Bonnie Balogh.

   b. All Qualifying Recitals must be scheduled and completed before March 17, 2017 (the Friday preceding Spring Break). All Required Senior Recitals must be completed by April 15, 2017.

   c. As early in the academic year as possible, meet with your applied lesson instructor and academic advisor to set your recital date. Prior to October 1st of each academic year, seniors will be given priority to set their Senior Recital date. After that date, qualifying recital dates will be available on a first-come, first-served basis.

   d. Note: No more than 2 music events may be held on one day and none at the same time.

3. Accompanist:
   a. Make sure your accompanist is available for your recital date and dress rehearsal date.

   b. Our professional staff accompanists are expected to prepare music and rehearse as requested by the applied instructor. In normal cases, weekly rehearsals will be adequate to prepare for the recital. However, because the dress rehearsal typically requires an extra commitment of time and travel from the accompanist, the student will pay a fee of $75.00 to the accompanist for the dress rehearsal. This payment should be made directly to the accompanist before the recital date.

4. Publicity
   a. Program and poster design is the responsibility of the student and must conform to the standard department sizes for both.

   b. All poster and program copy must be edited by the applied instructor or academic advisor and reviewed by the music department administrator, Diane Trevett, at least three weeks in advance of the recital date. Posters may not be posted without approval of Diane Trevett in the Music Office.
c. The Music Department will assume up to $20.00 in costs towards the printing of your programs and/or flyers when your materials are printed by the University Print/Design Center. Please coordinate the printing with Diane Trevett prior to printing the print job in order to secure the correct account number. Off-campus printing costs will be the student’s responsibility. Distribution of posters and flyers, on and off campus is also the responsibility of the student.

d. Campus and Off-Campus Media: Publicity regarding repertoire, personal data, etc., for on-campus publications and newspaper articles must be given to Diane Trevett in the Music Office four to six weeks prior to the recital. (Publicity forms are available in the Music Office.)

5. Piano and Harpsichord: If a piano needs tuning for your recital, or if the harpsichord is to be used, you must make a request to the Music Department Administrative Assistant at least 14 days prior to the recital. For required recitals, tuning expenses will be paid by the Music Department.

6. Stage Set-Up and Diagrams: If your recital will be held in Smith Auditorium or Hudson Concert Hall, complete a Stage Instructions Form and submit to the stage manager, Mike Bergh two weeks before the recital. This form is available in the Music Office or on the music department website, Current Student Information/Student Forms. The stage manager will arrange for a stage crew, lighting and sound personnel.

7. Recording: Whenever possible, the stage manager will arrange for required recitals (i.e. Sophomore Qualifying Recital and Senior Recital) to be recorded. Sometimes however, scheduling issues will mean that the student will have to make arrangements for recording. Once you have set your recital date and have booked the hall online, check once again with the stage manager to be sure that a sound technician will be available for recording.

8. Reception: If a post-recital reception is desired, the reception is your responsibility to arrange. If you are a member of Mu Phi Epsilon, you should contact the president of Mu Phi Epsilon to arrange the reception.

9. Evaluation Form: Obtain a Sophomore Qualifying Recital Evaluation Form or a Senior Recital Performance Evaluation Form from the Music Office. This form must be completed by your recital jury immediately after your recital and turned in by your faculty advisor.

10. Cancellations: Recital dates cannot be changed except in cases of an emergency or serious illness. The student’s instructor must notify the department chair for approval of the cancellation. Students who find it necessary to reschedule solo recitals must notify the Music Department Administrative Program Assistant Bonnie Balogh of the change. If the notification of change is made less than two weeks prior to the new date, the department cannot guarantee that technical support will be available.

A. After-Hours Access: Access to the music facilities after hours requires cardlock access. Access to locked rooms requires an additional after-hours pass. Both may be requested through the Music Department Office.

B. Practice Rooms: These rooms are available to currently enrolled Willamette University Music Students. Students must have Willamette University ID in their possession while using the practice rooms. Several rooms are located on the second floor of Fine Arts East and are available on a first-come-first serve basis. In addition, two locked practice rooms are located in the Rogers Music Center. These rooms must be scheduled through the music office. The reservation precedence is: 1) Students who are piano performance majors, 2) students whose primary instrument is the piano, and 3) chamber music ensembles with piano. Please report any needed instrument repairs to the Music Office. Please report any mischievous or suspicious behavior in or around either music building to Campus Safety (ex. 6911) or to the Music Office (ex. 6687).

C. Smith Auditorium and Hudson Hall must be reserved and are restricted to those students preparing for a music recital. Please limit practice in these halls to begin seven days preceding the jury or recital. Exceptions to this would occur when the applied teacher schedules the stage for student practice prior to a performance. To reserve the stage, check with the Music Department Administrative Assistant, Bonnie Balogh, at Ext. 6214.

D. Harpsichord Use: Contact Professor Marva Duerksen, Professor of Music Theory.

E. Lockers are available in Fine Arts East (second floor) and backstage in Hudson Hall for music students only. Locker assignments are made by the Music Office. Students may rent a locker from the Band Office, RMC 120, for $5.00 cash per year. You must pay before you will receive the lock. Personal padlocks may not be used. If lockers are to be used over the summer, students must make arrangements with the Music Office prior to the end of spring semester. Items left in lockers will be removed at the end of the school year and taken to campus safety. The Music Department is not responsible for lost or stolen items.
F. Copying: The photocopy machine in the faculty workroom is not available for personal/student use. Students should use the Hatfield Library or the Print and Design Center in Lee House for their photocopying.

G. Music Technology Laboratory: located in Ford Hall 001, is accessible to all majors 24/7. Please email Professor Nord (mnord@willamette.edu) to arrange for a personal key code.

H. Security: Be responsible for your possessions in Smith and RMC. These buildings are relatively secure, but instruments, backpacks, and other personal belongings have been taken from these locations in years past. Be certain to lock your lockers at all times and never leave instruments and other personal items unattended.

I. Musicians Health & Safety: see Appendix F

SECTION FIFTEEN (15): REQUIREMENTS FOR DEGREES IN MUSIC - ALL MAJORS

The Willamette University Department of Music offers the following National Association of Schools of Music approved degrees in music as well as two approved minors in music:

- Bachelor of Arts in Music
- Bachelor of Music in Performance
- Bachelor of Music in Composition
- Bachelor of Music Contemporary Improvisation
- Minor in Music
- Minor in Arts and Technology

Each of these degrees has been revised in accordance with our reaccreditation process with the NASM. Consult the catalog of the year you entered Willamette for the requirements for your degree program; however, you may graduate following the requirements of any degree plan in effect during any of the four years you are enrolled as a student.

Also, consult the Willamette website: http://www.willamette.edu/cla/catalog/disciplines/i_p/musc/

Scroll down for the current and most up-to-date requirements for each degree including 4-year sample course outlines for all B.M. degrees. Work together closely with your advisor in constructing your four-year program and the courses for each semester that you are in residence at Willamette as a music major.

Ultimately, the responsibility lies with you, the student, for understanding and completing the requirements for your music degree. If you are at all unsure, please consult an advisor.
