Just 3 more days until the ever popular Mid-Semester Coffee! See you then for some happy munching and conversation!

Our speaker tomorrow afternoon (March 12) is Ron Hays, an Assistant Professor in Willamette's Atkinson Graduate School of Management and a disaster relief specialist. The title of his presentation is "The Geography Of Disaster Which Changes The Response". Ron teaches courses focusing on philanthropic investment for community impact. Equally important are his personal experiences being part of teams providing disaster relief efforts in several countries including ground zero in New York after 9/11.

Thursday, 14 March the ICL Great Decisions group is pleased to present a discussion on immigration, its sources, trends and nations responses. Elliott Dickinson Ph.D is Assistant Professor of Political Science at Western Oregon University. A graduate of Purdue for his Doctoral work, Elliot furthered his studies as a Mellon Foundation postdoctoral researcher in Johannesburg South Africa.
