

ANTH 351: INDIGENOUS PEOPLES, HUMAN RIGHTS, AND THE ENVIRONMENT

Self-Evaluation

Due Saturday May 9, 5 p.m., on WISE and in hard copy

Put your NAME at top left of the page

Below your name, list your group's focus/theme and your group members' names

50 points possible

In about 500-700 words (one-two double-spaced pages), evaluate your work in your Learning Community this semester. Address the following questions:

- 1) What were your specific contributions to your group process over the course of the semester?
- 2) If you could go back and do something differently, as far as your contributions to your group are concerned, what would you do?
- 3) What were your specific contributions to the development of the group Digication page (in addition to your own page)?
- 4) What would you do differently regarding the Digication page, now that you know more about how to use it and have seen other groups' pages?
- 5) Discuss your group's in-class presentation. What were its strengths? What did you specifically contribute? What were the weaknesses of the presentation? What can you improve, in terms of presentation skills, going forward?
- 6) Overall evaluation: Give yourself a letter grade for your overall participation in the Learning Community this semester and justify that grade.