Camping along the Missouri with old friends.

Who wanted to be in a plane in 2021? Not I. Instead, we got into our car and drove to Montana. We decided to take a guided river trip through the Missouri Breaks and the wild & scenic part of the river. We put in at Coal Banks Landing and headed out for 6 days of paddling. Halfway through the 105 mile trip, we stopped to pick up four additional passengers. Two of the newcomers turned out to be close friends of mine from law school! We had lost touch and I hadn't seen either of them in nearly 40 years.

When I realized who they were, I ran up and hugged poor Hal, who (oddly) failed to recognize the crazy old woman whooping and shouting at him.

Salem City Club: Local Services in the Pandemic Mode: When can We Eat Out Again?

Friday, February 18, 2022 | 12:00 PM - 1:30 PM | Zoom

Cost: Members: free; Non-Member: $5.00

This second program in a two-part series explores the effects of the pandemic on the hospitality and restaurant sectors of our economy. Our speakers are Jason Brandt, President and CEO of the Oregon Restaurant and Lodging Association, and Cecilia Ritter-James of the Wild Pear restaurant in downtown Salem.

Clearly, while manufacturing may experience impacts from supply chain and global economy shortages, restaurants, bars, hotels, and related services were forced to shut down immediately and send workers home due to COVID restrictions. As you no doubt recall, all of our daily behaviors were thus affected immediately as well. This program begins with a broad examination of the service sector in the immediate region and in Oregon as a whole. REGISTRATION

Willamette Heritage Center presents a new season of "Zooming Back to History"

The Willamette Heritage Center is pleased to announce a new season of our Zooming Back to History online speaker series, now in its fourth season. We have lined up four incredible speakers who will share their insight and expertise on historical topics related to the Mid-Willamette Valley and greater Oregon. As always, this is an online event hosted through Zoom, and is a great opportunity to safely immerse yourself in interesting historical topics while connecting with our local community from the comfort of home. Each event will be held on the third Thursday of the month starting in February through May. I am particularly excited for our first speaker who helped develop the 2021 release of The Classic Oregon Trail Computer game (originally developed in 1971) that many of us may remember from our school days or from popular culture. The spring lineup can be found below and on our website.

Zooming Back to History: Spring 2022:

Book Recommendation:

Harlem Shuffle by Colson Whitehead - Harlem Shuffle's ingenious story plays out in a beautifully recreated New York City of the early 1960s. It's a family saga masquerading as a crime novel, a hilarious morality play, a social novel about race and power, and ultimately a love letter to Harlem.

Podcast: The Memory Palace

is a monthly historical podcast hosted by Nate DiMeo that debuted in 2008. The program features historical narratives concerning such subjects as the Cardiff Giant and the CIA project Acoustic Kitty. It is currently distributed online by Radiotopia.

Salem Art Association presents LUNCH AND LEARN

Calling all members and inviting all art lovers!

As the pandemic continues, our thirst to learn is insatiable. Join us monthly as we explore timely conversations in the art world. The Salem Art Association is excited to introduce a new monthly (virtual – for now) series for you to hear from some of our community's most amazing artists and curators. Join us as we lunch and learn!

We will kick off our series on Wednesday, February 23 at noon with Matthew Boulay, Executive Director of Salem Art Association. Matthew will present how NFTs are transforming art and how we view it. If you are curious about how NFTs work, this is a great opportunity to learn more.

Please email Laura@SalemArt.org and she will send a Google calendar invite your way with the link to attend.

What is Kokedama?

Kokedama is a ball of soil, covered with moss, on which an ornamental plant grows. The idea has its origins in Japan, where it is a combination of the nearai bonsai and kusamono planting styles. Today, Kokedama is very popular in urban and suburban gardens.

Word to Know: Argot

(AR-gət) adjective

French, mid-19th century

1. The jargon or slang of a particular group or class.

"The British working class has a different argot than the aristocracy."

"The detective didn't understand the teenagers' argot."

Life is a spark between two identical voids, the darkness before birth and the one after death.
