Transferable Skills

A liberal arts degree in general, reflects a comprehensive education emphasizing analytical skills, critical thinking and communication skills; abilities in high demand for all employers. Concentrating your studies in a major allows you to also gain specific transferable skills of interest to particular employers and industries.

Graduates with a major in LAS are attractive to employers due to their abilities in the following areas:

- Ability to practice for long periods of time
- Ability to organize and memorize detailed information
- Understanding of other cultures and people
- Ability to think logically and quickly and make analogies
- Creativity
- Wide ranging curiosity
- Excellent verbal and written communication skills
- Computer literacy
- Proficiency in phonetics
- Background of general knowledge
- Comprehensive command of grammar and vocabulary
- Good listening, clarifying and responding skills
